

State Health Director Resigns with Blast of Criticism

COLUMBUS, May 14—(P)—Dr. Roger E. Heering, state health director, resigned today with a biting criticism of the house finance committee's reduction of health department budget requests.

In his letter of resignation to Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, Dr. Heering declared:

"Our lawmakers are obviously not in sympathy with the public health needs of the people."

Declaring continuation of his work was "a waste of time," Dr.

Heering said the legislature apparently lacked "the vision to recognize that adequate provision for preventive medical services is insurance for the future welfare and economy of the state."

The house finance committee slashed a request by the state health department for a total of $2,734,326 for the 1947-48 biennium to $1,179,650.

The resignation was made effective May 31.

Chairman Paul H. Ballard of the house finance committee laughingly commented:

"Somehow we will survive."

In a letter to Ohio county health commissioners, Dr. Heering urged a fight for more public health money and expressed himself as "completely dismayed" at the elimination of a request for $40,000 for a hospital survey which would have made Ohio eligible for $2,700,000 in federal aid each of the next five years.

The state health director was appointed to his post Jan. 3, 1945, by former Gov. John W. Bricker.

Unless Governor Herbert appoints a successor to Dr. Heering before May 31, the job of acting state health director again will fall on James Bauman, assistant director who is the oldest state employee in point of service.

At least a half dozen times in the past, Bauman has been acting director. A lawyer, he is prohibited from becoming director.

Governor Herbert informed newsmen that Dr. Heering earlier had expressed to him "keen disappointment" about the house finance committee's rejection of his request for funds for the hospital survey. The governor added that $15,000 already had been spent on the survey.

"I will endeavor to have the hospital survey item restored to the appropriation bill by the senate," the governor said.

Dr. Heering had stated his position in a letter to county commissioners.

Northcentral Ohio Lashed by Tornado That Injures 26

Trailer Camp at Findlay Wrecked By Wind Following Hailstorm; Stories of Grim Experiences Told

FINDLAY, May 14—(P)—A tornado that ripped through the eastern edge of this city and wrecked a trailer camp left at least 26 persons injured today.

Police and volunteer workers were searching the debris this morning to ascertain if there were any more casualties.

No one was killed when the twister struck this northern Ohio city at 4 P. M., yesterday and within two minutes smashed 42 trailers and damaged three others. Twenty-one persons in the trailer camp were hurt. Some were buried beneath their wheeled residences, but swift rescue action extricated them.

Inside the city, three employees were injured in the collapse of a municipal barn and two women were hurt, one by window glass and the other by a falling tree.

Preceded by a hailstorm the tornado dipped into the trailer camp from the southwest. Two minutes later, the funnel shaped wind mass had sped northeastward.

A camp resident, Mrs. C. L. Wakesfield, saw the roof of her trailer porch sucked up by the tornado. Then, the twister overturned the nearby dwelling of her daughter, Mrs. Kyle Linger.

"Before I knew it, she and my grand-daughter, Carol Sue, 5, were pinned underneath," Mrs. Wakesfield related, adding she "rushed over and broke through the side of the trailer to pull them out." They were bruised slightly.

The storm disabled power poles, shutting off electricity to half this city of 22,000. Trees were topped and roofs blown from numerous buildings.

Cold Weather Moving East

(By The Associated Press)

Chilly temperatures extended northward and eastward from Chicago to New England, today. Temperatures were close to freezing in northern New England and around the Lake Superior region, and other temperatures in the area dropped to the upper 30's or low 40's.

A swift warmup was expected in the western sections of the cold belt, but continued cold weather was forecast for Ohio today and tonight.

Body of Woman Is Found in Alley

RANTOUL, Ill., May 14—(P)—An attractive, 21 year old beauty parlor operator was found today beaten and strangled to death, with her underclothing torn off, in an alley behind a garage.

Authorities had not determined immediately whether the victim, Miss Edna Lucille Kietzman, had been raped.

A rope had been wrapped twice around her neck. Her face had been beaten, her knees were skinned, and she was unclad from the waist down.

Mrs. Leulla Strawn, another beauty operator, said Miss Kietzman visited her last night and started home about 10:30 P. M.

Bexley School Tax Voted

COLUMBUS, May 14—(P)—Teachers of suburban Bexley schools were assured salary increases for next fall when voters yesterday approved a three mill school operating levy expected to yield $75,000 annually.

Purple Heart Designer Dies at Staten Island

WASHINGTON, May 14—(P)—John R. Sinnock, 59, designer of the present purple heart medal and the Roosevelt dime, died today in a hospital, Staten Island, N. Y.

Sinnock was chief engraver of the Philadelphia mint and rated one of the greatest artists in his field.

Vet Survives 5 Days Under Wrecked Car

OAKLAND, Calif., May 14—(P)—Ernest K. Steele will live to tell about his ordeal of being pinned beneath his wrecked automobile for five days.

Wife stands beside unconscious Ernest K. Steele in hospital.

Surgeons at Permanente Foundation Hospital said they may have to amputate a portion of his right arm but that otherwise his condition was satisfactory.

The 26-year old navy combat veteran was trapped beneath his overturned car just 150 feet from a busy highway last Wednesday. He was rescued Monday afternoon by telephone lineman who happened to come along.

"You don't know how wonderful a human being is—a fellow human being—when you want one," Steele said yesterday.

Senate Approves Foreign Relief

WASHINGTON, May 14—(P)—The senate approved today a $350,000,000 relief program for war ravaged countries of Europe and Asia.

The vote was 9-4.

It passed the measure after first refusing to go along with a house-approved slash of $150,000,000 in the amount asked by President Truman and the state department.

The senate stand against a cut was by a roll call vote of 64 to 19. That means it will have to seek a compromise with the house.

Often such differences are split which in this case would mean a final bill providing a $275,000,000 program.

Fremont Hotel Sold

FREMONT, May 14—(P)—E. R. Hilton, proprietor of Hotel Fremont, today announced sale of his lease on the Colonial Hotel of Fremont to T. H. Rowland of Paulding, O., effective June 1. Rowland also owns the Court Hotel of Mansfield, O.

German Strike Imminent

STUTTGART, Germany, May 14—(P)—Union leaders of Stuttgart factories agreed today to call a general strike May 22 if the food crisis is not solved.

The report was made by Doctors A. J. Lieberman, D. Perlstein and G. A. Snyder, of Schenley distillers Corporation, Larchmont, N. Y.

The stuff that inhibits the virus that causes flu came from a bit of earth. Just where the earth came from the authors of the report said they did not know. It was one of numerous samples of soil from all over the world. Since the penicillin and the streptomycin now used as drugs came from soil, many laboratories, searching for new wonder drugs, routinely have samples of dirt sent them from all parts of the earth.

At the Larchmont laboratories the 47th sample of dirt yielded the mold that seems to produce an antidote for flu. It was named LL47, the LL standing for Larchmont Laboratories. About 50 research workers are keeping the laboratories going day and night on experiments with the new mold.

Atomic Research Center To Be Near Here

DAYTON, May 14—(P)—An atomic research center, described as important to the welfare of the country and in large measure secret, will start operation at year.

The plant will be operated by the Monsanto Chemical Co. of St. Louis for the atomic energy commission, with 450 employees half technical workers.

The commission and the Monsanto Company, whose Texas City plant was destroyed in the disastrous explosions there two weeks ago, assured Miamisburg residents in a statement that the new plant would be no more dangerous to their village than any other industrial plant.

"The position of the United States, with respect to the development and application of atomic energy," the commission and company said, "will be substantially affected by the acquisition of chemical technology and engineering know-how at Miamisburg. For this reason it is of the utmost importance that design, construction and operation of this facility be carried out under complete protective security."

The statement asked "that unwarranted discussion of the project be kept to a minimum" and added that a part of the plant would be "placed underground in order to obtain conditions necessary to certain types of laboratory work."

"There are no dangers from explosion attendant to this operation," the statement said. "Any normal industrial hazards are minimized by the advanced design and construction features."

"There will be present, however, the additional hazard of working with radioactive materials. These materials are not explosive. The adequacy of measures taken to protect personnel is indicated by the outstanding record of the Manhattan district (army unit which supervised development of the atomic bomb) and the AEC in preventing injury to personnel due to overexposure to radiation. These hazards exist only within the building."

The statement, signed by Dr. Carroll A. Hockwalt, the company's central research director, and Kenneth A. Dunbar, Dayton area manager for the atomic energy commission, disclosed that construction work began last December. Grading and the main excavations should be completed by June 1, it said.

Portal Pay Ban Becomes Law

65 Cents an Hour Minimum Proposed

WASHINGTON, May 14—(P)—President Truman signed into law today legislation banning portal pay suits and sent congress a fresh request that it raise the minimum wage to 65 cents an hour.

In a message to the legislators, the president:

1. Emphasized that he was signing the portal bill because he believed it in "the interest of economic stability" that both business and the government be relieved of the potential liability for billions of dollars. But he said there were defects in the measure and asked that congress remedy them.

2. Asked again that congress raise the statutory minimum wage from 40 to 65 cents an hour.

3. In effect, prodded business to (Please Turn to Page Eight)

Tornado Hits Ross County

CHILLICOTHE, May 14—(P)—Extensive damage to two farms near Higby Station, 10 miles southeast of Chillicothe, from a tornado which slashed a quarter mile swath through the territory last night was reported today.

Not a roof was left intact on the 1,500-acre Philip Myers farm. Manager John Bowman said. Trees were uprooted, power lines blown down and a cattle shed was flattened.

Bowman said he, his wife and daughter were preparing to drive away from the farm when the twister hit. Their car was blown backward for "a considerable distance," then was smashed by flying timber.

No one was injured, either on the Myers' farm or on the farm of John Foster, also in the path of the storm.

Bowman said it was the second time this year the roof on the main house of the Myers farm had been blown off.

Drug that May Be Influenza Cure Is Believed Found in Mold in Soil

By HOWARD W. BLANKESLEE

PHILADELPHIA, May 14—A green and black soil mold that shows promise of furnishing a drug remedy for influenza was announced to the Society of American Bacteriologists here today.

There are vaccines for flu, but no drugs that specifically cure it. The mold shows some specific curative effect on chicken embryos and mice with influenza. It has not been tried on humans.

Red Sox Slugger Hits Homers For Boy Who Lost Both Legs

Glenn Brann and his mother in hospital

Big League Baseball Stars Cheer Glenn At Hospital Where He Is Learning To Walk

MALDEN, Mass., May 14—(P)—Stout-hearted 11-year-old Glenn Brann—buoyed by two home runs Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams "hit for him"—was reconciled today to a life on artificial legs.

Glenn's limbs were amputated after he had been accidentally "burned at the stake" about a month ago, while playing cowboys and Indians with two young champions—but physicians withheld the information from him until yesterday.

Dr. William H. Fisher, who performed the surgery at Malden Hospital, told the youngster the disheartening news shortly after Williams and Red Sox pitcher Joe Dobson had visited him.

His first tearful reaction was "does my mother know?" Assured she did, the boy's thoughts turned to the future. "Will I be able to walk?" he asked.

Dr. Fisher told him about the "wonderful" success war veterans were having with artificial legs, even to the extent of participating in sports.

Glenn brushed away the fast fading tears. "Okay," he responded courageously, "when do I start learning to use them?"

A few hours later, the youngster was the happiest and most enthusiastic radio baseball fan on the hospital porch. He waited patiently for Williams to hit that homer "he promised me."

Williams came through with not one but both for Glenn.

When Glenn retired for the night he told nurses "it isn't so bad to have your legs off after all."

Hold-up Nets $65 In Circleville

CIRCLEVILLE, May 14—(P)—Three men today held up 35-year-old Curtis Dumm, operator of a filling station on Route 23 four miles south of Circleville, and escaped with $65 in cash and cigarettes and cigars valued at $50.

The bandits bound and gagged Dumm, who was not freed for five hours.

Lokar Resigns As Racing Head

Ohio Governor Wins Scrap With Hold-over

CLEVELAND, May 14—(P)—John E. Lokar today complied with a request by Gov. Thomas J. Herbert and resigned as chairman of the state racing commission.

Herbert last Friday demanded the former secretary to ex-governor Frank J. Lausche resign because of what he described as "the disclosures in connection with the department of liquor control."

In a letter to Herbert, Lokar said that for some time he had "been torn with the thought of resigning" and the governor's request "only hurried my decision."

Lokar was appointed to the post by Lausche after serving as his secretary during Lausche's two terms in office. He took over as commissioner last Jan. 11.

Gov. Herbert advocated abolition of the four-member state racing commission and substitution of one commissioner with an advisory board.

The newly created division, he said, should be placed in the department of commerce.

Yankee Sane, Is Report

GREENFIELD, May 14—(P)—The clerk of the Highland County Common Pleas Court indicated today Lima State Hospital psychiatrists had judged 39-year-old Cecil Yankey, accused of first-degree murder of Leroy Woodland, to be sane.

Clerk Harold Mason said the court so constructed action by Lima hospital authorities in ordering the release of Yankey to Highland County Sheriff F. F. Gustine tomorrow to face trial June 9.

Indianapolis Race Boss Optimistic

INDIANAPOLIS, May 14—(P)—Wilbur Shaw, Indianapolis motor speedway president today glanced over an entry list that showed only six or seven speedway-tempered drivers, but said he was not worried.

"Every driver in the annual 500-mile race here on May 30 will be a man of proven ability," said Shaw. "The fact that some of the drivers their first appearance in the Indianapolis classic does not mean they lack ability."

Plane Crash Kills Four

HONOLULU, Pa., May 14—(P)—A monoplane carrying four persons on a return flight from New York City to Rochester, N. Y., crashed in a desolated northeastern Pennsylvania wooded area, killing all aboard.

The plane was piloted by Charles Bowlbin.

$24,725 More May Come in For This Year

Local Governments Would Get Boost Under Senate Bill

If the local government aid bill is passed by the legislature (and present indications are that it will be), Fayette County's share of the $25,000,000 fund for this year would be $62,057 compared with $37,332 last year, and the amount for next year would be $44,640.

The fund is distributed to the various taxing districts under the plan for local government aid, with a sizeable portion coming to Washington C. H.

A favorable senate today took over key measures in the administration's $32,000,000-a-year financial aid program for local governments.

House Republicans rammed through three major portions of the program yesterday.

The measures would provide $25,000,000 annually and authorize cities to take over the state's amusement admissions which yielded nearly $3,000,000 on a 3 percent rate last year. No limit was set on the rate cities could levy after Oct. 1.

A bill to give counties the state's $500,000-a-year share of cigarette dealers' license fees, previously passed by the house, has been recommended for senate passage.

Another proposal, advocated by Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, for $3,250,000 in state subsidies for county care of tuberculosis patients is being studied by a house finance sub-committee.

During debate on the three aid bills, urban representatives who stand to benefit most under the local government program, hinted they might upset the pending school subsidy plan unless ruralists (Please Turn to Page Eight)

Palestine Inquiry Is Planned by UN

NEW YORK, May 14—(P)—The United Nations took rapid steps today to assemble a staff of 40 to 50, headed by an assistant secretary-general, to aid the 11-nation Palestine inquiry commission which will go to the Holy Land this summer.

These plans were disclosed as the general assembly met in plenary session for final debate on the instructions and composition of the inquiry commission already approved by the full assembly membership meeting at the political committee at Lake Success.

Without waiting for final approval, which Secretary-General Trygve Lie said may come some time today, the secretariat was composing a "neutral" staff which would be ready to leave as soon as the inquiry group is organized.

Murderer Mother Released at Lima

LIMA, May 14—(P)—Mrs. Marian Elizabeth Stokes, 44, who confessed slaying her two children in Harrison, a suburb of Cincinnati, was released today on a writ of habeas corpus from the Lima State Hospital for the criminal insane.

She headed for home in the company of her husband, hardly a year after entering the institution.

Mrs. Stokes was committed to the hospital after being acquitted of a charge of first degree murder on her plea of innocent by reason of insanity.

The children, Arlene, 4, and Gerald, 4 months, were slain on Jan. 19, 1945.

Harry Kuhn Is Found Guilty Of $383 Theft

Jury Returns Verdict After Considering Case Short Time

After deliberating one hour and 10 minutes, the jury sitting in the case of Ohio against Harry Kuhn, returned a verdict finding Kuhn guilty of stealing $383 from the Moose Lodge here on March 3, 1947.

Sentence will be passed by Judge H. M. Rankin within a short time.

The case opened Monday and each side introduced testimony from many witnesses, so that the case did not go to the jury until early Tuesday afternoon.

The Moose Lodge was burglarized on March 3, and apparently the thief hid in the rooms until after closing time, when he helped himself to upward of $400 and left in the lodge rooms.

The money was in a box and hidden, but apparently the thief knew exactly where it was kept, and obtained it without difficulty, then departed over a roof and down a ladder into the alley back of the Moose Lodge rooms.

It was sometime before Kuhn was arrested, due to the fact that he and his wife started for California, but had a disagreement in Texas, reports stated, and returned to Ohio.

The jury reported its findings around 2:30 P. M. Wednesday afternoon.

Additional Rain Again Halts Work

Rainfall of .42 of an inch over Tuesday, again halted farm work such as plowing and corn planting.

Corn planting had started last Saturday, with many others beginning this important phase of work Monday and a few had started Tuesday before being rained out.

While heavy showers fell throughout the country, at some time Tuesday, a few farmers were plowing Wednesday, indicating that much more rain fell in some areas than others.

Tuesday's peak temperature was 71 degrees, and at 8 A. M. Wednesday the reading was 58 degrees. A year ago 66 and 34 formed the high and low marks.

John Hidy Named President of Circle

John Hidy was elected president of the Bookwalter Community Circle at a meeting in the school which was followed by a program by the school children.

Other officers elected at the meeting were Alfred Coe, vice-president; Florence Seibert, secretary; and Frieda Belles, treasurer.

The children gave an operetta, "Twilight Alley," for the group, under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Dawley, Miss Bertha M. Mowery and Mrs. Helen Huff. Mary Lou Harris, eighth grade student, played the piano accompaniment.

The social committee was appointed to make arrangements for the picnic on the last day of school, May 23.

Brilliant Rainbow Attracts Attention

Many residents of this city and vicinity saw one of the most vivid rainbows observed here in recent years, late Tuesday evening, following the rains here.

The brilliant bow attracted much comment and many persons recalled the old saying "a rainbow at night is a sailor's delight, and a rainbow in the morning is a sailor's warning."

Mainly About People

Mrs. Sadie Greer is reported seriously ill at her home, 501 West Temple Street.

T-Sergeant Otho Price returned Tuesday to Fort Sheridan, Ill., where he is stationed after spending the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roby Price.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rea, nee Marjorie Caldwell, 729 Dayton Avenue, are announcing the birth of a six pound, twelve ounce son, Edward Thomas, in Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, Sunday, May 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Waterhouse, nee Jane Anderson, 314 North Fayette Street, are announcing the Caesarean birth of a six and one half pound daughter, in St. Ann's Hospital, Columbus, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Harold Engle was brought to the offices of Dr. James E. Rose for X-ray and treatment for an injured knee and returned to her home on the Devalon Road, Tuesday evening, in the Cox and Parrett ambulance.

Mrs. Robert Boyd was brought from Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, Wednesday, to her home at 324 1-2 East Paint Street, in the Gerstner ambulance. Mrs. Boyd's infant daughter, Christa Lee, weighing three pounds, nine ounces, was left in the hospital.

Cutting Case Goes To Trial In Court Here

Before Judge H. M. Rankin and a petit jury, the case of Ohio against Chester Scott, indicated for cutting with intent to kill Leonard Johnson on December 25, 1946, was being tried Wednesday. Prosecutor Clark Wickensimer is representing the state and Winston W. Hill the defendant.

The jury sitting in the case is composed of R. W. Hays, Dorcas Holden, Alvert M. Slaven, John W. Knisley, Marie Ebert, Art Campbell, Emma L. McCoy, Virgil Garringer, Eldon Shoop, Helen Whitfield, Frank Thatcher, and D. S. Cochran.

The state's witnesses included Leonard Johnson, Addie Johnson and Dr. Joseph M. Herbert.

The defendant's witnesses were Goldie Scott, Jesse Dalton, Helen Ferris, Florence Scott, Scott Harris, Margaret Easton, Rev. Gray and Lon Bass.

Alphabet History Given Rotarians

The history of the alphabet as far as it is known to those who have investigated, was the subject of a talk before Washington Rotarians and guests Tuesday at the club luncheon at the Country Club. The speaker was Prof. W. D. Turnbull, junior dean of the College of Engineering, Ohio State University.

Prof. Turnbull was introduced by Ralph Penn, chairman of the May program committee, who was a class-mate and fraternity brother of the speaker while they were together in the University.

With charts and blackboard illustrations Prof. Turnbull traced the history of the alphabet from ancient times showing how our various letters and different types of writing had developed down through the centuries presumably from the Egyptians, the Phoenicians and the Greeks. While many phases of the talk were somewhat technical, speaker presented many interesting points entirely unknown to most of listeners.

At the conclusion of the meeting President L. M. Hayes announced that next Tuesday's Rotary program would be devoted to an unusual sketch "Rotary in the Dark" which the members of the Club's board of directors will present.

Elizabeth Iden 12th in State

Elizabeth Iden, eighth grade Bloomingburg pupil, tied for 12th place with eight other pupils from over Ohio in the state-wide eighth grade test taken by 45,000 boys and girls during April.

Elizabeth, who plans to be a teacher, had a score of 187 out of a possible 200 points on the tests which covered English, arithmetic, science and history. As one of the top 25 pupils, Elizabeth will receive a certificate of award signed by Dr. Clyde Hissong, state education director, and Dr. Ray G. Wood, director of scholarship tests. The tests are available to all Ohio schools, but are used almost exclusively in the county system. Eighth grade students in Washington C. H. High School took the test this year, however.

Thomas J. Clark, 13, of West Building School, St. Marys, scored 196 points to win first place. James Walter Bell of Carrollton was second, while Mary Evelyn Mikesel of Coshocton County, and Jeanne M. Schoenhoff of St. Bernard were tied for second.

Tied with Elizabeth for 12th place were Eugene Donald Bernath of Fulton County; Lowell Ned Brown, Sandusky County; Denton Grammar; Leo Joe Lammers, New Cleveland, Putnam County; Elizabeth Joan Mast, Wayne County; Harold Daniel Sleet, Lebanon; and Ruth Ellen Stone, Athens County.

Honorable mention was awarded to nearly 400 other students in the top one percent, but below the first 25.

Homemakers Present Play

"This Modern Generation," a play about high school girls, was presented by the Future Homemakers Club in the high school auditorium, as the girls entertained their mothers with a style show and tea.

Ruth Ludwick played the part of a typical high school girl, while Myrtle Scharenberg, played the mother; Loraine Bell played the grandmother; Marjorie Parks, Patty Edde, June Terrell, Mariana Allen, Dorothy Radebough and Donna Porter played school friends.

Following the play, the girls modeled the dresses which they had made in their vocational home economics class. The future senior officers of the Future Homemakers were presented with gifts by the club. Donna Porter, retiring president, gave Mrs. Wayne Woodyard, the club adviser, a corsage of roses from the club.

The new officers of the club were elected at a meeting Friday. They are Ruth Ludwick, president, and Betty Radebough, program chairman. The other officers will be elected at the first meeting in September.

The guests were given favors and served tea in the home economics room.

Sunshine Class Meets

The Sunshine class of the Sugar Grove Church held a meeting at the home of Mary V. and Earl Wilson, presided over by President Joy Cockerill. Devotionals were led by Betty Swayne, followed by prayer by George Anderson. Refreshments were served after the business meeting.

Tornado Hits Ohio

camp was estimated unofficially at approximately $150,000. Many of the trailers were tossed over the tops of other trailers and then smashed into trees and parked automobiles.

Debris at the trailer camp was spread over an area of more than one-half square mile.

The tornado entered the city from the southwest and followed a northeasterly course through Findlay. In about 15 minutes, it had cut a narrow path across the city following the center of several streets, strangely avoiding houses except for a number of roof tops.

Police officials were hesitant to estimate the damage done in the city but damage estimates ran as high as one million dollars, taking into consideration the huge expense of replacing old and valuable elm trees which lined the streets.

One two-story frame house was bowed in the center. Mail boxes light poles and steel fire escapes were twisted like paper.

Signs and other articles from store windows were thrown hundreds of yards.

One witness to the disaster at the trailer camp was Robert Minard, 17, whose mother, Hazel, and sister, Mrs. Mable Jones, were still in Findlay Hospital Wednesday.

Minard described the tragedy this way:

"I was in the concrete block office building when the terrific wind hit. I fell to the floor and it was only a couple of minutes until it was all over.

"I looked out of the window and all I could see was trailers, pieces of wood and furniture flying through the air. When the debris stopped flying, I rushed out to try to find my mother.

"She was still in our trailer, which weighs over 600 pounds but it had been thrown 150 feet through the air.

"My sister was trapped beneath the branches of a tree where she had been thrown from her trailer. I freed her and then helped to rescue a number of others who were screaming from beneath the trailers and fallen trees."

Among those injured, although only slightly, was Sarah Ann Shuck, 6-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Shuck. The baby was thrown out of her trailer when it was picked up and smashed against a tree. The child's mother was trapped inside the trailer and suffered only shock.

The twister caused a concrete building at the trailer camp to collapse and ripped apart another concrete structure, the Findlay City Garage, and piled concrete blocks on four city trucks and a bus.

Police work at the scene was made difficult by the thousands who gathered on foot and in autos.

CHICAGO, May 14—(AP)—A short-covering movement got underway in May wheat on the Board of Trade today following news that the Commodity Credit Corporation had re-entered the cash wheat market, taking small quantities of spring wheat in the northwest. Announcement of the CCC's action came as a distinct surprise to the grain trade.

With the May wheat contract spurring 10 cents, the limit at one time, more distant deliveries were firm although not advancing as sharply as the nearby delivery. Corn was firm and only steady.

In The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, May 14—(P)—Will President Truman veto the labor bill? Can congress re-pass it into law over his veto? Don't bet either way.

The house, several weeks ago, and the senate, yesterday, passed separate bills to restrict labor unions.

The house bill is tougher than the senate's. Both are tougher than the restrictions of unions Mr. Truman asked congress for.

But—these separate bills won't go to Mr. Truman to sign into law or veto. He'll get a single, compromise bill made up of parts of both bills.

That compromise bill will be worked out by a special joint committee of both houses. They may take weeks to work out the compromise.

Meantime labor unions will scream for a veto, many businessmen will protest against one. All of which means plenty of pressure.

Say Mr. Truman vetoes the compromise bill. Will congress have enough votes to re-pass it into law over the veto? No one can answer that now.

Passage to any bill need only a simple majority vote of both houses. This doesn't mean a majority of total membership but only of those voting.

But to re-pass a vetoed bill into law, both houses must approve with a two-thirds vote of those voting, far harder to get than a simple majority.

Both houses were so anxious so restrict unions that they passed their separate bills overwhelmingly. They went far beyond majority votes.

Both passed their bills by better than two-thirds not only of those voting but of total membership.

Thus is might seem they could ram through a better-than-two-thirds vote to re-pass a vetoed compromise bill. Not necessarily.

The house probably would do it. Any compromise bill seems sure to be milder than the very tough bill originally passed by the house.

So house members, unless some were reluctant to vote over a presidential veto, would have no reason for not giving a two-thirds vote again.

It's slightly different in the senate. The compromise bill may turn out to be a little tougher than the original senate bill passed by two-thirds.

So some of the senators who voted for the milder original senate bill might vote against a tougher, compromise bill if it's vetoed.

This shows that the final outcome is uncertain, but don't be surprised if both houses override a veto with a two-thirds vote.

Here's how the voting went in house and senate on the original bills.

House—308, 59 107. That 308 was more than two-thirds (288) of the 432 house members. Usually there are 435 but three have died.

Senate—68 to 24. That 68 was more than two-thirds (64) of the senate's total 95 members. Usually there are 96 but Senator Bilbo, Mississippi Democrat, hasn't been seated.

Changes in King's English Reflected in Co-ed Slang

COLUMBIA, Mo., —(P)—Here is a sample of modern co-ed campus slang at the University of Missouri:

"I'm bushed! One of the yo-yo boys sitting next to me in a basket course tried to pass me his growl in a whizz quiz. 'Shoot a beat', I told him because I didn't think it was a good lick."

"He was a four-wheeled personality but I would only go out with him strictly from hunger. Yeah, one of those 'get me' boys. Told me he had been breaking in a new ulcer and had the clanks from purple passions."

"Personally, I just thought he had rocks in his head—zero gizmo. You should have heard his snow job! Could he blivate! Said he liked my lipsmack. Asked me to put my feet in the trough but I knew he just wanted to play kiss on the mouth."

"I gave him the fluff but he tried to twist my arm. Finally I had to tell him to drink his beer."

Expert Coming Here Again
GEO. L. HOWE

Well-known expert, of Indianapolis, and ex-U. S. Army Medical Corpsman, will personally demonstrate his method without charge at the Cherry Hotel, Washington C. H., Friday, May 16th from 1:30 P. M. to 6 P. M.

Mr. Howe says the Howe method contracts the openings in remarkably short time on the average case, regardless of the size or location of the rupture, and no matter how much you lift or strain, and puts you back to work the same day as efficient as before you were ruptured.

The Howe Rupture Shield has no leg strap; waterproof, sanitary, practically indestructible, and can be worn while bathing. Each shield is skillfully molded and fitted to the parts under heat, which gives a perfect fit and satisfaction.

Large and difficult ruptures following operations especially solicited.

Do not overlook this opportunity if you want gratifying results. Mailing address P. O. Box 5233 E. Michigan St. Station, Indianapolis, 1, Ind.

thought it was a bad go.

"He was a jalopy jockey but am I that hard up for a meal ticket? Yeah, one of those 'big I' boys from way back. Told me he had the hanger wilies from too much bottle worship."

"He was a screwball—a real washout. You should have heard his line! Asked me to put on the feedback with him but I knew he just wanted to neck."

"I told him to peddle his papers but he came back for more. Finally I just told him to dry up. What kind of a floozie did he think I am? I've got my own one and only. Id never fall for that Joe college."

A nice young lady of the class of 1890 could probably have written her mother of the incident as follows:

"I am so wearied, mother dear. A fresh young man seated next to me in a difficult course attempted to smuggle me his 'pony'—a translation of our Latin text he had no right to have—during an examination which I found easy to pass. 'Certainly not,' I informed him as I did not approve of any such improper action."

"He owns a horse and buggy, mother, but I would hesitate to go out in his company even to get a cup of tea. Yes, he is fearfully conceited. He explained that he was highly nervous from over indulgence in a beverage called the 'purple passion,' which I believe is a shocking mixture of grape-juice and alcohol. Our authorities, of course, do not approve of such conduct, nor, you may be sure, do I."

"I am convinced he is an eccentric individual with no quality of character. Mother dear, you should have heard the flattery he addressed me. It was so ludicrously exaggerated! He praised the natural color of my lips, comparing them to ripened cherries. He invited me to accompany him to dinner."

Less Hay Fever

Chemical weed controls offer help to hay fever sufferers. Health officers in many places are saying that scientific weed exterminators now freely available should be applied at this season when the plants are beginning their growth. While few city codes have provision for such procedure, efforts are being made to bring the matter before city councils, over the state and nation. Meanwhile, since legislation is usually slow, health leaders are relying on educating owners of vacant lots in the use of weed controls.

The day may not be far off when hay fever can be greatly reduced by eradication of weeds bearing the pollens which incite it. At the moment chemical controls are fairly expensive, but if larger production follows general private and public use, they will doubtless become cheaper and more easily available everywhere.

The misery of hay fever is very severe; the loss in hours of work and in inefficiency when sufferers try to keep going in spite of illness is also great. Efforts at prevention need to be pushed.

Windows

Houses are biographical records of their builders. Quick fortunes of the last century were expressed in imposing Victorian mansions whose owners' importance was emphasized by mansard roofs, bay windows and turrets. Elegance and comfort in home of pre-Civil War times came from a way of life based on cheap abundant labor. And houses, in turn, mold their inhabitants. The Victorians were pompous, the southern culture was one of easy luxury. The pioneers, living in one room cabins, were a robust hardy lot who learned to do without.

Home styles today are emerging in a new pattern. High cost of building makes for compact houses. Also, because domestic help comes high these days, effort is put forth for efficient work-saving homes that can be cared for easily. With this economy, beauty is not ignored. Nature is utilized. The outdoors is brought inside. The garden, the vistas on every side are being incorporated into today's home by the simple device of big windows. They bring in maximum sunshine, are decorative effects in themselves, and do something for the souls of the family living behind them. What a sensible, really thrilling invention is today's "picture window."

That Iron Curtain

The Russian iron curtain should not be blamed altogether on the Soviets. Like their expansionist policy, it is inherited from the czars.

Ever since 1680 the Russian government has censored the printed word. Some performances of censors under the empire which would strike even Molotov as silly are cited in the New York Times by Sir Bernard Pares, British expert on Russia. No new invention could be praised in print until the government had officially indorsed it. A writer on ancient history got into trouble for saying that some Roman emperors were murdered. The censor demanded that he say, "They perished." One prize decision even forbade the publication of an arithmetic book because between the fig-

A Letter from Washington

By Jane Eads

WASHINGTON—An ex-school teacher, short and on the plump side but full of energy and high hopes for the people of her country, is the capital's next visitor to be feted and listened to with interest.

She is Madame Zoltan Tildy, wife of the president of Hungary, and this is her first visit to the United States. She came here primarily as the guest of the Order of the Eastern Star of New York and the American-Hungarian Reformed church organization.

In Washington she will stay at Blair House, the government's residence for distinguished visitors. She will be received by Mrs. Truman at the White House, and Aladar Szegedy-Maszk, the Hungarian minister, is planning a reception and two dinner parties in her honor.

From Washington she will go to several other American cities such as Pittsburgh, Cleveland,

Today's Horoscope

You can attain any goal you really set your heart on. You are determined, independent, dominating and sometimes inclined to be headstrong. Your mind is clear and alert, and absorbs and retains what you see and hear. You are sincere and generous in your love. You are a loyal friend and a bitter enemy. The day's influences are doubtful. It will be very easy to overreach or go to extremes. Your next year will be productive of some good fortune, although loss through law, property, speculation, correspondence and travel is to be feared. Refrain from advertising and making changes. The child born on this date will be free from vice; very hospitable and over-generous, to his or her own detriment, and will need to keep a close watch and firm hand on all financial transactions.

Soviet wrongheadedness may seem less diabolical if viewed not as deliberate invention, but as a continuance of an earlier custom. Their methods may be just as difficult for us to deal with as if they were invented yesterday, but a little knowledge of history makes it easier for us to understand them.

Are You Light or Dark?

If a blond, you will never be a bank president. If a brunette, you are probably slow to learn but will eventually make a good office worker. The darker your complexion, the greater your resistance to heat.

These discoveries were announced the other day by an Ohio representative of employment agencies, speaking at a legislative hearing. Could they not be carried further? A gadget might be devised, measuring the degree of blondness, brunetness and red-headedness. Reference to a table would show whether the applicant had the right shade of hair and complexion to run a restaurant or a glue factory. And if the necessary qualifications were lacking, they could perhaps be supplied by dyeing (with an e).

Interior Waterways

With the big wars apparently over for a while, at least, it is natural for the constructive forces of the nation to turn again toward the rich interior of the nation and bring it to more fruitful use along many lines. One of the most obvious and long-planned projects is the joining of the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers with New York harbor for productive use on a big scale, and improvements along the Allegheny River. According to Yates Catlin, executive secretary of the Upper Allegheny Improvement:

"Our association supports a cause which is also your cause. We seek to tie in the New York Barge Canal and the New York harbor with the vast Mississippi waterway system, by completing the Allegheny River waterway and by rebuilding the old Genesee Canal in western New York State."

There should be many other such enterprises getting under way in various parts of the country. The long-needed St. Lawrence is being discussed again. Perhaps this time it can be built.

Higher rents, an advocate says, will help the home-seeker. He can, for example, save himself the bother of househunting and stake out a warm and cosy park bench. But what about the wife and children?

Spring rains are annoying when householders want to get at outdoor jobs, but at least they are not spring snows.

DDT Cures a Distressing Condition

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

OF late years there has been what might be called an epidemic of head lice among school children in many of our large cities. When such a pest gets started it is always difficult to control, and thus it is interesting to read the experience of doctors elsewhere in dealing with the same condition.

An article by Dr. Arthur D. Frazer, condensed from the British Medical Journal by the Current Medical Digest, tells how 400 British patients were rid of head lice by D.D.T., the powerful insecticide developed by the U.S. Army during the war.

Other Preparations

While there are many preparations which can be used against the lice themselves, there are, unfortunately, few which will destroy the nits or eggs. D.D.T. has the advantage of killing both if left on the hair long enough.

Dr. Frazer has found a mixture of D.D.T., naphtha, an emulsifying agent, and water, to be an ideal treatment for head lice. The D.D.T. is not dissolved but rather held in suspension in the liquid by the emulsifier.

Strong Solutions

Long-continued contact with strong solutions of D.D.T. may be dangerous but, with proper caution, either powder or weak solutions may be used on the skin with perfect safety.

Before treatment is started, women patients are advised to have a scarf in which to tie up the hair. While the emulsion employed is a clear, colorless fluid, it makes the hair straight or lank. The scarf is worn merely to save the patient embarrassment.

In applying the treatment, a protective apron is spread over the shoulders and the emulsion is then thoroughly worked into the hair and scalp with a soft brush. The next day the patient washes the hair with soap and water and returns for examination.

At second visit, the hair is thoroughly combed with a fine comb. Two such combings may be needed if the head is heavily infested with the lice, but in practically all cases one treatment was sufficient to get rid of the infestation permanently. Contact with the emulsion usually kills the lice in about one-half hour. Thus, the hair may be washed one hour after treatment and thoroughly combed with a fine comb, which in most cases will be sufficient to eliminate the lice.

No reactions were seen except in one case where there was an extensive infection of the scalp. In this instance some swelling of the nose, forehead and eyelids occurred. However, this reaction disappeared within a few days.

This treatment, so rapid and easy, is also practically free from all danger. It should be a boon to all who suffer from head lice infestation and to doctors and nurses who must deal with them.

SYNOPSIS

The recent marriage of Bill Arden, serious young lawyer, to vivacious Diane Tarrill, was viewed with misgiving by the more conservative members of Grandharbor society. Bill belonged to one of the town's oldest families, while Diane's father, wealthy J. Emmet Tarrill, and Paula, her step-mother, were comparative newcomers with little or no background. It was rumored, too, that J. Emmet had come by his huge fortune rather questionably. Attractive Page Winston, who had been in love with Bill since childhood, managed to hide her heartbreak from all but Rufus Kent, Bill's former roommate at Harvard, who had recently come to Grandharbor to work on The Post. Diane was ideally happy, despite the fact that most of Bill's evenings had to be devoted to the Staples case which he was preparing for trial. It was his first big assignment, and it handled successfully might gain him a junior partnership. However, he agreed to take a night off to entertain a few of their friends, among them, Page and Rufus. Diane was deeply hurt when, a few evenings later, one of the crowd phoned to ask them out; as usual, she declined, but Bill, instead of being grateful, angrily voiced the wish that her friends would phone during the day. Caring for their small apartment took little time, and most every afternoon found Diane at the country club half-heartedly pursuing the same gay activities she had before marriage. When one of the crowd suggested Rufus Kent as ideal for the part of reporter in the amateur movie they contemplated making, Diane was elected to contact him. The Staples case was finally brought to trial, and Bill, as attorney for the defense, was busier than ever.

CHAPTER ELEVEN

MR. ARDEN was on his knees in the garden at the side of the house. "I don't intend to let these weeds get ahead of me," he explained to Diane.

She answered carelessly, went on to the house.

Mrs. Arden greeted her warmly. "Diane! How nice! I didn't think we'd see you until Bill was through with this trial. Shall we sit out on the porch? There's a lovely breeze there."

The porch was on the far side of the house and to get to it they had to go through the living room. Diane never stepped into this room without a grudging appreciation of its harmony. And with everything in it old, even a little shabby.

On the porch Mrs. Arden picked up a knitting bag and took out some knitting. Diane looked from her fingers, moving so expertly, to her own, idle, except for their itching to reach into her pocket for a cigarette. She knew that Mrs. Arden's were always busy and efficiently so, making curtains to replace old ones, new slip covers to cover too shabby chairs; they had made these chintz cushions on the chairs, out here. They were delicately shaped hands, but Diane, watching as they fed the wool to the needle, got an impression of strength in them.

They'd made and kept this home of Bill's, they'd tended him when he was a baby, when he was a little boy, worked for him, loved him, protected him. It came in to Diane that, for that, they still had a claim on him! Though the resentment she had felt toward Mrs. Arden, on that day of her and Bill's nomenclature, had not lasted long, a vague antagonism persisted. It quickened now, as she admitted the mother's claim. "Bill working tonight?"

Of course, she'd come to that straight off, Diane thought. She said, "Yes," and smothered a sigh. She couldn't talk to Bill's mother of Bill as she could to Rufus.

"This means so much to him!" Even in the half-darkness Diane could see the pride on Mrs. Arden's face.

Diane did not answer that, she wanted least of anything to talk of the trial, for it must betray how little she knew about it. "He was quite wonderful this morning in his cross-examination of one of the state's most important witnesses."

Diane wished that she had read the evening paper.

"Oh, he was," she exclaimed, making it sound complete agreement.

Mrs. Arden's fingers were still for a moment. "There are certain things a mother stores up in her memory. I've the day Bill won his eagle badge in scouting—no, before that, the day he went to school for the first time. I can see him now, walking down the street! Then his graduation from college. He looked so dignified in his cap and gown that I had to tell myself it was my boy! And today—"

Every muscle in Diane pulled taut. "You saw him—you were at the trial?"

She had told Bill, weeks back, that she intended to go to the courtroom someday when the trial was on and he had forbade it, quite firmly. It wasn't a show, he had reminded her.

"Yes, this morning, I went with Page. Page has been going every day this week."

A little fury began to rise in Diane's throat. She had trouble asking what she had to know. "Did you talk to Bill?"

Mrs. Arden had resumed her knitting. She waited to count some stitches. "Not until the recess. Then we persuaded him to have some luncheon with us. If we hadn't, I doubt he would have eaten any!" Her voice was mothering.

And Diane's careless and grandly indifferent. "I ought to send him to you while the trial lasts! He eats scarcely anything I offer him! It's a waste of my time to bother to fix it. Especially now, when I'm frightfully busy." She told Mrs. Arden of the movie they were going to take at the club. Of the fun, planning it, of the fun it would be rehearsing it, shooting it. "You see I'm just fruth, a play-girl with not a serious thought in my head," challenged her narrow, angry eyes.

Mrs. Arden said: "Can't you get Bill to take a part in it, if the trial finishes in time? He really doesn't play enough. He never has. I've been hoping, my dear, you would teach him!"

Though she was surprised, Diane refused to soften. She made a swift mental picture of Bill in some part of the movie, rejected it promptly, the little scorn on her lips of Bill, the son of this woman, not her Bill. It was possible to think of Bill as two separate identities. Was there a third, on whom Page still laid claim?

She sat a while longer, talking of other things, but without knowing what she said; she went with Mrs. Arden to see a bedroom which had been repapered, mechanically admired a bed and the bureau which Mrs. Arden had done over, herself, the piecework quilt folded on the bed which had been made by Mrs. Arden's grandmother when she was a girl.

Mr. Arden came in and she told him that, yes, Bill was working. "The family runs to good lawyers," he observed.

Away from them Diane's rage broke. Page going every day to the trial, was she? Sitting there, listening to Bill, adoring him! "No, his wife's out at the Old Colony Club. She isn't interested in the trial. She'd think it was a show of some sort!"

She drove ahead, indifferent to what direction she took as long as it was not toward the Chatham Arms. She could not go into the apartment, feeling like this! But on an almost deserted street she stopped the car at the curb, crossed her arms on the steering wheel and dropped her face into them, suddenly tired and sickened and bewildered by her anger. Why did she care what Page did? Why had she wanted to slay Vicky Boynton when she made that crack this morning? Why did she let Mrs. Arden's claim on Bill bother her? "I'm married to Bill!"

She said it aloud, but it echoed against her ears with only a sound of boasting; it did not touch her bewilderment.

She remembered their wedding night, driving away with Bill, out of their old lives into a new, it'd seemed. She'd said something about keeping everyone, everything out of their particular happiness. And they hadn't! Perhaps they could not do it.

"Your mother said she had himeh with you, yesterday."

She had not meant to speak of it to Bill but, in spite of her resolve, it came to her lips, the next morning.

For a moment Bill looked as if he were trying to recall that he had. "Yes. She stopped in at the trial. Page was with her. We went to Denton's across the street."

"If I—"

But Diane bit it back, despising her impulse to put him to a test, tired of it all. "More toast?"

"No, thanks. I've had enough." Bill pushed his plate aside, his half-empty coffee cup. "I may be late again tonight, Di. It's almost certain that I'll have to go over some testimony with Gregory."

She stood up to return his parting kiss. "Good luck, darling!"

His arm tightened about her. "Hold that thought for me, Di! It's a harder fight than I thought it would be!"

She put her face against his coat. "Bill, when it's all over, let's go somewhere—let's get out to the Avon Inn for a while."

He missed the shaking in her voice. "You forget I've had my vacation. He kissed her again and released her.

County School 'Band Mothers' To Give Help

Fund To Be Built Up
To Buy Instruments
For Needy Pupils

Students who cannot afford their own instruments will be aided by the collections being made by the recently organized Band Mothers Association with the first unit in Madison Mills which met Monday to plan money raising campaigns for the all-county band.

Mrs. Blodwen Melvin, president of the Madison Mills unit, said that the four groups which will be organized at Jeffersonville, Bloomingburg and Wayne, together with the Madison Mills group, will attempt to raise money for the 90 piece all-county band, which is the first of its kind in the county.

The money will not only be used to buy uniforms for the boys and girls, but will help buy instruments for school musicians who cannot afford to buy their own. The Madison Mills Band Mothers have decided to ask a contribution of $1 from every interested person. When the campaign is over, the names of these band boosters will be placed on a plaque in the auditorium at the school.

The county band will give a two day performance at the Fair here in July. Supporters hope they will have their uniforms by that time.

Weak, Watery Blood Blamed for Making Men and Women Look and Feel Older

How do you feel at the end of a day? Is that old time pep and drive lacking? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Thousands now regaining glowing good looks and vitality through the release of vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a general run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Employers' Rights Upheld by Court

CLEVELAND, May 14—(P)—Judge Frank J. Merrick believes that employers' rights, as well as those of employees, "must be measured with the same yardstick of constitutional guarantee."

It is strange, the common pleas justice said yesterday in a ruling banning peaceful picketing at a Parma, O., concern, that judges should have to pronounce from the bench that business does have that right.

"It seems to this court," he said, "that in recent years some of our reviewing courts have been too prone to accentuate the rights of workers, and at the same time lose sight of some fundamentals of constitutional guarantees afford to those who may be affected."

At Class Meeting

The Loyal Daughters Class of First Christian Church met at the home of Mrs. Homer Flint for their regular monthly meeting and their annual birthday party Tuesday evening.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Ralph Hickman, and the devotional period was in charge of Mrs. Amy Wiley, who read from the second chapter of Luke, and was closed with the Lord's Prayer in unison.

During the lengthy business meeting, plans for a rummage sale to be held May 24 were completed, and the class voted to contribute to the cancer fund. Mrs. Wiley as chairman of the ways and means committee, was appointed to make plans for a new project. The meeting closed with the usual benediction.

Games and contests were enjoyed during the social hour, with prizes awarded. A dainty refreshment course consisting of birthday cake and ice cream was served by the hostess and her assistants, Mrs. Bernice Duckwall and Mr. Byron Butters.

Queen Esther
Class Meeting

Mrs. C. B. Tigner was hostess on Tuesday evening to the members and two guests of the Queen Esther Class of the First Christian Church at her home on North North Street for the regular meeting of the month.

Pretty bouquets of lilacs and tulips had been placed at vantage points throughout the rooms adding a colorful note to the occasion.

Mrs. Elza Sanderson, class president, conducted the business session which was preceded by a short program including a vocal solo by Mrs. Esta Swartz and two readings given by Mrs. L. D. Exline and Miss Bertha Switzer.

A quiz program was enjoyed during the congenial social hour, which followed the meeting and was conducted by Mrs. E. A. Jones with prizes of book marks awarded the winners, who were Mrs. M. E. Stewart and Mrs. Leo Cox. The serving of delicious refreshments climaxed the evening's pleasures.

Assisting hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Belle Clark, Mrs. Leo Cummings, Mrs. Grover Gault and Mrs. John Tigner.

Class Meeting Postponed
The In His Service Class of the Jeffersonville Methodist Church have postponed their regular May meeting, which was scheduled to be held Friday, May 16. The next meeting will be held June 20, the hostess to be announced later.

Circle Meeting

Circle 15 of Grace Methodist Church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Norris Highfield. The leader, Mrs. Billie Wilson, opened the meeting and the devotionals were conducted by Mrs. B. E. Layman. Roll call was answered by 29 members. The secretary and the supply secretary's reports were given.

Mrs. Wilson introduced Mrs. N. M. Reiff, who was the guest speaker for the evening. Her topic was "The Child and Its Influences." Mrs. Darrell Thornton responded and expressed the appreciation of the circle for a most interesting subject, which was so ably discussed by Mrs. Reiff.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Helen Thompson and Mrs. Robert Auginbaugh in the serving of a dainty dessert course.

Ladies' Aid
Holds Meeting

Members of the Ladies Aid of the Bloomingburg Presbyterian Church assembled in the church parlors for their regular May meeting. The meeting was opened by Mrs. John Glen, president, reading the first chapter of Timothy.

During the business meeting, the treasurer gave a report of money received for tax stamps. Election of officers resulted in the retaining of the entire corps of old officers for the coming year. The Red Cross committee reported 354 garments made by the society during the past year, of which the members were very proud. Plans were discussed for the re-decorating of the parsonage by the Ladies Aid.

The program following, consisted of readings, "Courage of Youth," by Mrs. Anna Larimer; "Young Pastors," by Mrs. Hattie Heinlein; "Faith," by Mrs. Emma Swiss, and "Writing In Prison," by Mrs. Glen, which closed the program. The meeting was closed with the usual benediction.

Bloomingburg
WSCS Meeting

The Bloomingburg WSCS met at the home of Mrs. Willard Bloomer, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. J. M. Allemang, vice president, was in charge of the meeting, and also conducted the impressive devotionals.

Mrs. Nora Oswald conducted the lesson study period, on the topic, "The Child and His Family," followed with a discussion on the subject. Plans were made by the society for a tea to be held in June at the church, when they are to have a guest speaker.

The meeting was closed and tempting refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Carrie Wilt, Miss Ollie Swope and Mrs. Katie Woodland.

Parents Announce
Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McCaughey of the Robinson Road, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Betty Lou, to Mr. Elber Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Brooks, 404 South Main Street.

The bride-elect is employed at the Washington Candy Company and the prospective bridegroom is associated with the Hotel Equipment Company, in Columbus. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Engle and daughter, Hazel, of Bloomingburg were Monday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Griffith in Leesburg. Mr. and Mrs. Engle also attended the initiatory work of the OES No. 57 there during which Mr. Engle was invited to act as Worthy Patron for the evening.

Entertained
Kensington Club

The ladies of the Tuesday Kensington Club were indebted to Mrs. John MacIver for a delightful afternoon of informal visiting and their usual needlework, when a nearly perfect attendance, assembled at her home Tuesday afternoon for their regular meeting.

The home was tastefully decorated with arrangements of lovely spring flowers and during a social period, a delicious refreshment course was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. G. C. Kidner and Mrs. O. D. Farquhar.

Reds Hang On To Win by 7 to 5 As Dodgers Stage Rally at End

By JOE REICHLER
(By The Associated Press)

Hats off to Mr. Connie Mack, the grand old man of baseball. The 84-year-old gentleman, now in his 47th year as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, is quietly answering his critics by giving the athletic fans the best brand of baseball they have seen in more than a dozen years.

His much maligned mackmen have won six of their last eight games including a 7-6 conquest of the mighty Bob Feller and the Cleveland Indians last night.

The Detroit Tigers retained their one game lead over the Boston Red Sox by shutting out the Washington Senators 8-0 before 17,983 capital city fans in a night game. Hal Newhouse ended his four-game losing streak by blanking the Nats with four singles.

The Boston Red Sox continued their upsurge by winning their seventh game in their eight starts, trouncing the Chicago White Sox 19-6. Ted Williams made two of the Red Sox' 18 hits, both home runs.

Aided by four home runs, three of them in succession in the sixth inning by Charlie Keller, Joe Dimaggio and Johnny Lindell, the New York Yankees opened their home swing with a 9-1 triumph over the St. Louis Browns.

Saints Beat Red Birds, 8-3

(By The Associated Press)

The pitchers appear to be catching up with the batters in the American Association—although it is taking a lot of them, working in relays, to do it.

Louisville's Jim Wilson and Clem Dreisewerd combined for a three hit job last night as the Colonels beat the Blues 4 to 1. Dreisewerd took the mound with two out in the seventh and quailed a Blues' rally.

Third-place Columbus fell victim to the five-hit work of four St. Paul hurlers who collaborated to gain an 8-3 decision. Slick Coffman, who toiled only one inning and allowed two of the hits, was credited with the win.

Earl Jones tossed a six-hitter to lead Toledo to a 9-4 triumph over Minneapolis. Jones was backed by Whitey Platt's grand slam homer in the third inning which provided him with a 6-2 margin.

Wet grounds forced postponement of Indianapolis' game at Milwaukee.

Softball League Of 8 Teams Set Up

An eight-team softball league today was all set to open the season in Washington C. H. June 2.

The loop was organized at Tuesday night's meeting of sponsors and managers in the City Hall. It will be a part of the city recreation program under the direction of Fred Pierson, the recreation director. Pierson will act as the secretary-treasurer of the league, but it probably will have either its own officers or a commissioner to whom all questions can be referred for final decision.

Another meeting is planned for the future to iron out the last of the details. The definite date has not yet been fixed, however.

In the league will be teams representing the Paul H. Hughes Post of the American Legion, the Homer Lawson Post of the Legion, Dayton Power & Light Co., Washington Candy Co., Pennington Bakery, Armbrust Building & Supply Co., Morton Show Case Co. and Universal Auto Co.

Representatives of three subordinate Granges also were at the meeting ready to take steps to form a Grange League again this year. If another team can be organized, the Grange loop will be organized and a schedule worked out to fit in with that of the industrial league.

The opening date of June 2 was selected after the sponsors and managers agreed they could have their teams in shape by that time. A schedule for play the first four evenings of each week during the summer is now being drawn up by Pierson. Friday evening was left open for game with out-of-town teams or postponements.

situation in the British zone, a foreign office spokesman said in London.

Most responsible German leaders in the U. S. zone agreed with American authorities that the basic solution of the crisis was an increase in production, both agricultural and industrial. But the Germans were said to be insisting that this could not be realized without more support from the United States, even now spending more in Germany than any other occupation power.

WHS Thinclads Place in Relays

Washington C. H. High School's thinclad athletes today were back from Upper Arlington relays—not with any blue ribbons or medals, but with the satisfaction of having piled up enough points in track and field competition against 12 other school squads to get some recognition.

Coach Steve Lewis took his entire squad to the meet, but had announced to them before leaving that only those who looked like they had a chance would be entered. It was a nice trip for the nearly a score of boys and was in a measure compensation for the long and tiring workouts this spring.

The WHS finished in a tie with Wilmington for second place in the SCO meet held at Gardner Park last week. That was their only meet. The previous engagements were rained out.

At Upper Arlington, Bill Smith, the halfback with the rabbit-like football style of ball carrying, finished fourth in the 440-yard dash; Allen Blessing came in fourth in the half mile run and the WHS team of David and Carl Looker, Smith and Paul Grimm was fourth in the half mile relay.

Crosby and Taft Team Up for Golf

WASHINGTON, May 14—(P)—It probably will be the most unusual foursome in golf history.

For, come Saturday, Bing Crosby, Senator Taft (R-Ohio), Hildgarde and Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler will tee off together.

How come such a queer assortment of golfers?

Well, they're playing in the national celebrities golf tournament.

And so are two supreme court justices, three cabinet members, Bobby Jones, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, Walter Hagen, Gene Tunney, Carl Hubbell, Jack Dempsey and—if he can make it—Babe Ruth.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK, May 14—(P)—Possibly Admiral Jonas Ingram, the new all America football conference commissioner, is an optimist; possibly he just doesn't know what's been going on in pro football... at any rate, his ideas about speeding up grid games should be applauded... "I think we can speed up the average game as much as 15 to 25 minutes by snappy officiating," the commissioner said the other day.

DOWN WENT GINTY

Chuck Ginty of Blackstone, Mass., high school, struck out 23 batters and allowed only two hits against St. Mary's of Milford, Mass., the other day and managed to lose the ball game, 8-6... a sample of what happened to Chuck—in the first inning he fanned five guys, but the catcher couldn't hold the ball and St. Mary's scored a run.

Big Tom Sheehan, Notre Dame catcher who never has hit below .340 in college baseball and is around .500 this season, is drawing a lot of attention from major league scouts.

Future Teacher Club Here Cited For High Rank

Kay Put in Key Post Of New Statewide Organization

Superintendent A. B. Murray of the city schools, and Karl J. Kay, a member of the high school faculty, today were back from a meeting in Columbus at which superintendents and faculty advisors of Future Teacher Clubs formed a statewide organization.

The purpose of the organization, Kay explained, was to bolster the dwindling ranks of school teachers in Ohio by encouraging students, starting while they still are in high school, to enter the teaching profession and to complete the teacher training courses in college once they are started.

The meeting was called by the state department of education, it was pointed out, in the hope that the superintendents and faculty advisors of high school Future Teacher Clubs could help with the teacher recruitment campaign which has been under way for some time. The organization of superintendents and advisors was one of the results.

Kay, who is the faculty advisor of the Future Teacher Club in the high school here, said the consensus of the meeting was that the teacher shortage could be traced, in part at least, to the decreasing number of students taking teacher training courses in colleges. Low salaries were held largely to blame. The situation has been aggravated, he added, by the tendency on the part of some boards of education to grant emergency teaching certificates at lower salaries to students in the first and second years of college. It was brought out by some of those at the meeting, he said, that while some boards took advantage of the "emergency" which he said really should have ended soon after the war—others were forced to take untrained teachers because of necessity.

The new organization, Kay said, had as its primary purpose the encouragement of students interested in teaching as a profession to complete their teacher training courses. The state organization, he explained, intended to work with students through the Future Teacher Clubs in the high schools all over the state.

Miss Lucille Carroll, a native of Martinsville in Clinton County and now a high school teacher in Wooster, was elected the president of the state organization of superintendents and faculty advisors. Kay was placed on the important policy committee as its chairman.

The Washington C. H. High School's Future Teacher Club, of which Kay is the faculty advisor, was held up as one of the best, if not the best, in the state on the basis of its results and program. It now has approximately 50 members from all four regular high school classes.

Future Teachers Clubs were first established about ten years ago in a few schools. Since then a loosely knit national organization, known as the Future Teachers of America, has been formed. The club here is affiliated with the national organization. Clubs have been formed in cities all over the state.

The WHS club meets once a month—at noon, usually in the library of chemistry laboratory. The members bring their own lunches. To save time, the business meetings are held during the meal.

The club has its limited social side, but its main purpose is to provide an opportunity for the pupils to familiarize themselves with teaching. Junior and senior members are given assignments as substitute teachers during short absences of the regular instructors. Freshmen and sophomore members get their start by taking care of children while their parents attend Parent-Teacher Association meetings or other school gatherings.

Forest Shade Initiates Two

Interesting Session Held by Grange

Two new members were taken into Forest Shade Grange Tuesday night at a meeting in the New Martinsburg Grange Hall, which was followed by a special Mother's Day program.

Birch Dunn was reinstated as a member since he had been a member of Oak Run Grange in Madison County. Mrs. Dunn was given the obligations in the first four degrees. Winfred Morgan gave Mrs. Dunn the first three degrees, while Mrs. Edward Lee Carson gave the obligations in the last.

During the meeting, the group voted to donate $10 for the new public address system in Memorial Hall. Urcel Knedler, worthy master, urged the committee in charge to get as many members as possible for the fifth degree which will be given at the next Pomona meeting.

A committee to arrange for the Grange's booth at the fair in July was appointed. The committee includes Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Bethards, Miss Louise Ritter, Winfred Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lee Carson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carson, Mr. and Mrs. John Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Grice, Harley Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Lemons, Carl Lemons, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wilson and Miss LaVerne Wilson.

The refreshment committee for the next Pomona meeting, which will be given by Forest Shade Grange, is Mrs. Nathaniel Tway, Miss Louise Ritter and Mrs. Edward Lee Carson.

The program honoring the mothers included songs and recitations. Refreshments were served following the program.

WIZARD RETURNS

JAMESTOWN—Harry Wallace, Cedarville, will return to Silvercreek High School as athletic coach, Wallace over a period of years as coach of winning teams received the title of "Wallace the wizard."

Perrill Appointed To Key Committee

Virgil Perrill, Fayette County representative in the Ohio General Assembly, this week was named by the speaker of the House as a member of a committee of five which is to give special attention to investigation of all labor bills now before that body and to present what is regarded as the best possible legislation in the form of a bill, to the industrial relations committee of the House.

This is a significant honor for Perrill who although a first term member, has been studying possibilities in proposed labor legislation and is thus recognized as one of the present legislators competent to deal with it. He is a member of the industrial relations committee.

It is expected that the special committee to which he is named will put all proposed labor legislation through a screening process so that the general committee will have the time-saving benefit of considering only such legislation as may be regarded as practicable.

Officers Attend New FBI School

Sheriff Orland Hays and Deputy Guy Carter and Police Chief Valden Long are attending an F. B. I. school in Columbus this week.

The school is being held at the central police station, with experts from the Federal Bureau of Investigation in charge, and the Buckeye Sheriffs Association and Ohio Police Chief Association are collaborating in connection with the school, which ends Friday.

Deadline Near For Licenses For Cigarettes

158 Taken Last Year And Only Two Have Been Renewed

County cigarette dealers were warned today by Ulric Acton, county auditor, that their cigarette licenses will expire on May 26 and should be renewed by that time.

There were 158 cigarette licenses issued by the auditor's office last year, and only two of these have been renewed, said Acton. These two were taken out by C. C. Fountain of Good Hope, restaurant owner, and by Bryant's Restaurant of Washington C. H. The licenses, which cost $25 a year, will run from the fourth Monday in May in 1947 to the fourth Monday in May in 1948. The licenses are required under a state law, but must be purchased from the county.

The penalty for selling cigarettes without this license, is heavy, said Acton. For the first offense, a fine of $25 to $100 may be imposed, or imprisonment of two days to 30 days, or both.

Acton said that the smallest number of licenses sold in recent years was in 1945 when only 93 were issued. He attributed this partially to the shortage of cigarettes during that war year.
